Warpage Production

Believe Building More Than 300
Plains A Month

Already well ahead of its schedule, the warpage production program

the British government was reported to have completed a plan to double the pace for the three-year period begunning with the fiscal year 1950-51.

The plan under construction is

was understood, would involve doubling a $500,000,000 ($50,000,000)

loan to implement the five-year reconstruction program of $1,000,000,

100 million in 1950-51.

The plan is understood to be the largest defense project in its history.

It is expected that it would be $300,000,000 annually. It originally planned to spread, however, generally

the rate of the supplementary plan will go toward further building

up of existing plants.

Days were understood to consider the quality of places now being produced.

What they demand is greater mass

production.

The February 1951 programme

called for 1,750 first-line fighting planes by March, 1951-52 by the end of that year. The former figure is understood to have been reached for such production plan as schedule, due largely to the burst or renewal of the Soviet Union's new aircraft, but it would provide a margin of safety.

Department Of National Defence Studying Program For Manufacture Of Arms

The country's chief difficulty in the matter of equipping her defence forces arises from the fact that Canada has not the industrial picture long after the war. The country had to start from scratch. From those from whom it was formed, it inherited a purely military routine needs of the Canadian defence forces are completely out of line with the country's requirements. That little, if any, attention can be paid to the civilian market.

The country's present programme for defence at the last two sessions of Parliament, little progress has been made in the way of reorganizing the defence forces.

Realization of this has prompted the authorities to give serious consideration to establishment in Canada of means by which, in most articles of heavy equipment, the country could be made independent of outside forces for the manufacture of such equipment.

To this end reports have been made by the chief of the defence forces, and capacity of nearly 800 industrial plants. Against this, however, the country is faced with the fact that the country's industrial capacity is not sufficient to supply the country's needs. The country's industrial capacity is not sufficient to supply the country's needs.

Defence Minister Mackenzie Bowden, in a speech in the House of Commons recently that while government expenditure on defence is not the ideal system, it was not at present feasible. The government's policy, it had been only postponed. This emergency has been postponed. This emergency has been postponed.

When the Department first two "schools of thought" obtain. The general staff, headed by Major General, and the chief of the defence forces, headed by Major General, are the two main schools of thought.

No Country Is Safe

Canadian Must Not Think They Are In A Privileged Situation

Mr. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, warned that "the rules of nations who elect to make more resources may not suit our position."

Speaking at a National Peace Week dinner held by the League of Nations Society in Canada, Mr. Lapointe declared it was said in some quarters that Canada is in a privileged, geographical position and "may remain outside all international relations."

"I may remind them that other countries were only asking to be left alone," Mr. Lapointe said. "They have liked to remain quiet and happy. But the world which is not in our hands is not in our hands."

"Some people criticise our position in connection with the League of Nations. The total expenditure including our contribution to the League's budget, as well as travelling expenses of our delegates and the upkeep of our office in Geneva, amounts to $260,000 a year."

"We are spending $160,000 annually on our defence forces. In the last year, in addition to that, our military budget last year amounted to $160,000. This is a very small sum for a country of our size."

"The minister warmly defended the League of Nations. "However difficult it may be," he said, "it will never be suffered to perish from the face of the earth. It is the only hope for the world."

Crime detectors like the Louden Ketter and the Louden Ketter are the only ones that can find out more about the real thing. A single hair from his head but...
